Jahmyr Gibbs — Sending

Gibbs is a cornerstone SF asset whose value is buoyed by elite receiving volume, providing a high floor even if rushing efficiency dips. While QBs dominate SF, his RB2 overall status makes him a rare non-QB capable of anchoring a championship roster through his age-27 season.

Bijan Robinson — Receiving

Byan Robinson is the apex predator of dynasty assets, offering a rare blend of elite rushing efficiency and high-volume receiving upside. In Superflex, his value is anchored by his status as a positional advantage that rivals elite QBs, though his value will face a sharp correction once he hits the age-27 RB cliff.

How are trade values calculated?

Roster Audit ingests thousands of real dynasty trades every day from Sleeper leagues and feeds them into our market valuation engine. Each trade nudges player and pick ratings toward equilibrium.

Recent trades matter more, clean 1-for-1 deals carry the strongest signal, and outlier trades are automatically down-weighted. Values update daily to reflect the live dynasty market.
